“Julie's potting shed has now found a new home and from first impressions, the shed is very happy! Everything went very smoothly. Keith made the 2:30 ferry which I met and he followed me to a stop where he parked his rig so I could show him what the challenge was. I had my electrician there to help and Keith did a great job of placing it in the exact spot. He was able to even make the 5:00 ferry to get a start back home. I am so relieved that everything worked so smoothly. I have been most anxious all day. Julie will be most excited when she arrives tomorrow. Of course, I shared the minute by minute details as she was hosting a bridge party. I will certainly send appropriate pictures but it is a perfect addition to our Williamsburg collection!!!!!!!!!!!!!!”

“I promised you a picture of Belle in her new home. We still have much landscaping to do, but consider this a "before" and I will send you the "after" when the mason and the garden lady are finished. We LOVE her. My husband spent most of yesterday setting up his half of the area as his workshop, and hung pegboard to store his tools. I've never seen him be so neat! We're still waiting for the electrician, as well, to come hook us up and hang the lantern, but I can tell that this is a perfect solution for us. Everyone--from my carpenter, to the garden lady, to the pool guy, to the neighbors and my kids and their spouses--walk in and just say, "WOW!!!" when they see her. This is a perfect example of the joy of good quality far outweighing the pain of price! I do not regret one penny spent on this beauty! Thank you so much for making her just the building we needed.”
