Since our company's inception, this versatile design has been our flagship model. Ideal as a gardened, pool house or storage building, it bears the hallmark of tradition and craftsmanship. The timeless design and scale compliments a variety of residential architectural styles. There are no shortcuts to quality; each Williamsburg model is fully constructed of the finest materials, including cedar, cypress, mahogany, fir, copper and iron. We mill nearly all of the material ourselves and construct every component. The signature dovecote cupola is fully vented, screened, and open to the interior, to allow for proper air circulation. Each window is crafted of solid mahogany and features divided lites with a copper drip cap. Complete with forged iron hardware, the arched chevron pattern doors are solid and substantial. To suit your different needs, we offer a variety of exterior and interior options to fully customize each building.

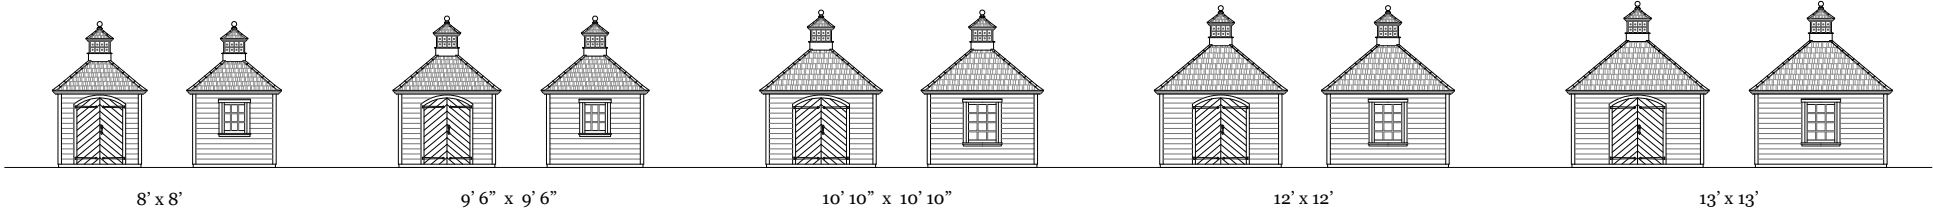

An engraved brass plaque, a small indication of authenticity and our company pride, is affixed to the interior of each building.
